Event Series Enhancements

Following the release of the Event Series feature in early May, we've made enhancements which allows organizers a greater flexibility to bundle their events:

- Organizers can set a minimum number of events that participants must select to register for an event series. A minimum allows participants to have greater choice in how many events they can join.

International time zones can now be defined for volunteer events. This allows volunteer coordinators to change time zones and view reports in the desired timezone. Now volunteer coordinators will not have to manually work out the time difference in the report.
