Hidden Team Control

Hidden teams help you create and manage private teams for corporate and charity partners. Now you have more flexibility when using the hidden team feature: you can choose whether team captains can or cannot create hidden teams during registration.

When a team is hidden, additional team members can only be added by the organizer or invited by the team captain. The hidden team will not appear on the public registration form.

The screenshot shows a form titled "Team captain settings". It contains three radio button options for team registration: "No password is required for team registration", "Password is optional for team registration" (which is selected), and "Password is required for team registration". Below these are two checkbox options: "Enable general team invite" (unchecked) and "Enable hidden team" (checked). The "Enable hidden team" checkbox is highlighted with a red rectangle, and a red arrow points to it from the right.

Stop Duplicate Registrations

Organizers have more options to prevent duplicate registrations for their events, or multiple events during an event weekend.

If organizers choose to not allow duplicate registrations for an entire event or specific event categories, they can enable the Prevent Duplicate Registrations function in their settings, which will check subsequent registrations against existing email addresses and prevent identical ones from registering for an event or category.

Third-Party Merchandise Report

For organizers using third-party merchandisers to fulfill participant orders, these merchandise partners now have the ability to see more contact details for each purchaser through the Third-Party Merchandise Report. The newly-added information (email address, birthdate, gender, registration number, and day phone) can better facilitate the communication between the merchandise partner and the purchaser, leading to improved customer service and shorter fulfilment times.
